

TO:

This Christmas,
I bought a tree for you,
for our future,
and for our planet!

FROM:

Ecoforce believes that only through education and action can we achieve our aim of reducing human effects on our climate. We have only one world, a world we're all equally responsible for. It's not the job of government or big business or others to solve this problem. Every human on planet earth has a responsibility to do their bit, now and into the future.

This Christmas, you became part of the solution!
